Allied Command Transformation's Bi-Annual magazine has now made its way into the cyber sphere, where you can interact with the article authors! Every article has a blog function attached to it. The newest edition of The Transformer, just out, is dedicated primarily to the topic of 'Smart Defence' which will be central to the NATO Summit in Chicago 20-21 May. The magazine has a new editorial profile where articles aim at encouraging out-of-box thinking. The Transformer also has a new graphic look, and we invite you – the reader – to give us your opinion. As with any true transformation, there's never an end state, rather the product is a snapshot in a continuous process, where we will continue to strive to evolve and improve - with the help of everybody's good ideas. Be a part of the process; engage with The Transformer staff: pao@act.nato.int
