

New 'Transformer' focussing on Innovation - ACT

Written by Megan Thum, ACT Strategic Communications
Monday, 08 October 2012 17:02

A new issue of Allied Command Transformation's Bi-Annual magazine "The Transformer" is published and available online, where you can also interact with article authors. This current edition is focussing on Innovation in a military transformational environment.

The magazine has a new editorial profile where articles aim at encouraging out-of-box thinking. We invite you – the reader – to give us your opinion. As with any true transformation, ACT's innovative thinking is a continuous process where we will continue to strive to evolve and improve - with the help of everybody's good ideas. Be a part of the process; engage with The Transformer staff: pao@act.nato.int

The magazine's online edition with the blog can be found here: <http://www.act.nato.int/transformer-2012-02>